

SHIELD YOUR NOSE

At the first sneeze or sniff apply "Mentholatum". This antiseptic breathable balm dispenses mucus, soothes away irritation, stops infection and opens up clogged breathing passages. Quick relief from specific ever known for Coughs and Colds. Marvellous family remedy—perfectly safe for children. All chemists, druggists and I.S. also to find form 15 (one cent).

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 28 1941

No. 3139 61st Year

OVER 3,000,000 CERTIFIED SALE

London Edition

[Published at the G.P.O.] 2d.

Big Eight Of The Allies Get

Going On A Smash-The-Axis Strategy

WORLD-WIDE PLAN FOR VICTORY

YESTERDAY, IN WASHINGTON, THE BIG EIGHT AGAINST THE AXIS POWERS BEGAN TO PLAN A WORLD-WIDE STRATEGY FOR THEIR DESTRUCTION.

This strategy, calculated to put the Allies on the high road to victory, concerns land, sea and air operation. And the nations who began yesterday to plan it were:

BRITAIN AUSTRALIA
RUSSIA NETHERLANDS
CANADA NEW ZEALAND U.S.A.

President Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill, whose close co-operation is the symbol of the Democratic nations' determination to wage all-out united war against the Axis, were the leading figures at the discussions.

The progress of their recent conversations had been passed on to representatives of China, Russia, the Netherlands, the Dominions, and a similar review was given to delegates from Pan-American nations who had been summoned to the White House.

Mr. Roosevelt began his day with eight major war strategy conferences to six all-White House. Mr. Churchill was invited, by Mr. Roosevelt, to discuss with U.S. military and air advisers.

THAT WAS THE FIRST CONFERENCE TWO HOURS LATER THE PRESIDENT AND MR. CHURCHILL RECEIVED THE CHINESE ENVOY, MR. HU-SHIL, AMBASSADOR TO WASHINGTON, AND MR. LITVINOV, THE RUSSIAN AMBASSADOR.

Then Mr. Harry Hopkins, the American League-Lend hand, was summoned.

Finally the chiefs of the Dominions Missions to Washington arrived.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Mr. Mackenzie King, Canadian Premier, was present. Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and India were represented.

The Netherlands Minister was summoned. Next came a conference attended by the military missions of all other nations at war with the Axis.

The last conference, held in the afternoon, was staged in the Cabinet room of the White House.

There the President and Mr. Churchill, with the British and U.S. military and air chiefs of the two countries.

IT WAS BELIEVED IN WASHINGTON LAST NIGHT (REPORTED A.P.) THAT BRITAIN AND U.S.A. HAVE REACHED A PRELIMINARY AGREEMENT ON ROAD STRATEGY.

The outcome of the day of conferences was the report of General Sir John Dill was issued indefinitely in the morning to assist in coordinating the military plans of the two countries.

"PRAY WITH U.S. ON NEW YEAR'S DAY"

The King hopes that his people will join with the American people in prayer. The prayer which President Roosevelt has called for New Year's Day.

Thursday, this was said in a statement by the Archbishop of Canterbury yesterday. The statement said that there will be a special desire on the part of the people of this country to associate themselves in their private lives with the prayers which are being offered this year.

Malta BOMBED AGAIN

ANOTHER GENERAL GOES

Wavell Takes On Burmese Defence

GENERAL SIR ARCHIBALD WAVELL, COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF IN INDIA, HAS ASSUMED RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE DEFENCE OF BURMA "UNDER THE CONTROL OF HIS MAJESTY'S GOVERNMENT."

At the same time the War Office announced last night the appointment of Lieut.-General T. H. Hutton, Chief of the General Staff in India, to be General Chiang Kai-Shek and Major-General J. H. Brett, Chief of Staff, United States Army Air Corps.

General Wavell was reported to have visited Rangoon on his way back to India.

General McLeod, who is fifty-six—five years older than General Hutton—declared when Japan entered the war: "By air, sea and land, Burma is ready."

ROMMEL STILL IN TRAP

REMNANTS OF ROMMEL'S FORCES IN LIBYA, TRAPPED BETWEEN OUR FORCES ADVANCING FROM BENGHAZI AND OUR PATROLS OPERATING WELL INTO TRIPOLITANIA, ARE BEING HARASSSED IN THE JEDABA AREA.

Libya, Finest Christmas Box For Empire

YOUR brilliant Libyan campaign, now nearing a successful close, is the finest Christmas box you could have given us and the whole Empire.

General Smuts, South African Premier and Commander-in-Chief, said this in a cable of congratulations to General Auchinleck, Commander-in-Chief, Middle East.

Knowing your difficulties and anxieties, my rejoicing is all the greater at this blow which is sending Italy and Germany back to the drawing boards.

Our success is welcomed as an added reason for the success of the larger enterprise which we are waging in the Middle East. This has reason to be satisfied and proud of its heroic achievement in rounding off 1941 with this roundabout victory. Our soldiers, Thank you.—Reuter.

"HELP ON THE WAY"

Tunis, Saturday.

ITALIAN German reinforcements for General Rommel have been landed at the port of Tunis today, and are now on the way along the North African coast. They hope to relieve Rommel before the British cut off his retreat from Cyrenaica.

This was said by French military authorities in Tunis today.

They revealed that in the last fortnight a big Italian convoy of men and munitions crossed the Mediterranean after a brush with the British Fleet.—B.U.P.

SOVIET DRIVING ON

Continuing their drive in the VOLKHOF AREA, EAST OF LENINGRAD, THE RUSSIANS HAVE TAKEN FIVE MORE VILLAGES AND A RAILWAY STATION IN THE LAST TWENTY-FOUR HOURS, LENINGRAD RADIO SAID LAST NIGHT.

Four other villages stubbornly defended by the Germans, were occupied on Friday, after fighting lasting two days.

General Schmidt, the German commander on this sector, has been relieved of his command and has been replaced by General von Arnim, the radio said.

It added that an order of the day from General Schmidt, saving good-bye to his troops and admitting of very heavy losses, had been found.

The Germans, it was stated, were using large numbers of tanks and armoured cars.

Moscow Radio, too, told of further Soviet successes. It reported that a Russian patrol ship of the northern fleet, rammed and sank a German submarine which was found on the surface at dawn, and that three waves of Russian bombers, diving out of the clouds on a German aerodrome on the southern front, destroyed 19 enemy machines.—B.U.P.

Last night's Soviet communiqué reported particularly heavy fighting in the Western Kurland and South-Western fronts. "Our troops," it said, continued to advance, occupying a number of populated centres.

Earlier news of fighting in Page Eight.

HEAVY AIR RAIDS

An A.P. message says that some of Rommel's forces have reached Maseru, on the Gulf of Suez, opposite Benghazi, but the port was attacked and heavily bombed by heavy British bombers.

The RAP communiqué, dealing with the fighting in the Jeddah area, said that many direct hits were scored, and that the enemy's motorised units were of the town.

In the frontier area an enemy machine-gun nest in the Sidi Barrani area was hit by fighters. Objective at Tripoli now again bombed on Thursday night.

From these and other operations all our airmen returned, except one fighter. The pilot of the plane was saved.

VATICAN CONDEMNS "MERCY KILLINGS"

The Vatican City newspaper, "L'Osservatore Romano," has criticised the practice of "mercy killings" in some European countries "to promote the cause of peace."

The newspaper characterised as "an invitation to homicide, one of the most heinous and odious crimes ever to reach the screen."

OPEN CITY BATTERED FOR THREE HOURS

Enemy Planes Set Manila Ablaze

Manila, Saturday Night.

Salvoes of bombs crashed down on thickly inhabited areas, destroying public buildings and starting a chain of fires which swept rapidly to the westward.

Tonight's firemen are battling desperately to check the flames which threaten to spread over a wide area.

Direct bomb hits destroyed the historic Santo Domingo Catholic Church with its great treasure. The old Santo Tomas University building, erected by the Dominicans in 1890, was also wrecked.

In the past of the devastating flames and seriously endangered was the Catholic Cathedral and the Philippine Appeals Court.

The entire "walled city," built by the Spaniards centuries ago, threatened with destruction. Residents are pouring out as fast as they can, carrying only a few of their most valuable belongings.

At the flames light up the black-out, Manila people are bitterly echoing the words of Mr. Cordell Hull, U.S. Secretary of State, who commenting from Washington on the raid, said Japan is practicing the same senselessness in the Philippines as she has been practicing in China—the same barbaric methods of cruelty and inhumanity that Hitler has been using in Europe.

The first enemy planes concentrated their attack on ships in the harbour, but none appeared to be hit.

The attack then spread to the banks of the river and the helpless city. The enemy were machine-gunned.

Four focus south of Manila, near the railroad to the capital, were also bombed.

SLOW JAP PROGRESS

Japanese air activity continued in support of the army and fighting.

U.S. communiques today report that the enemy are being continually reinforced from fleets of troops in both at Lingayen Gulf, north of Manila, and at Atimonan, to the south-east.

Combat operations south-east of the general vicinity of Lamoni are very heavy, tonight's communiqué added.

After victory the three Powers and their allies will strive to subvert the new order with an era of lasting world peace, both in Europe and East Asia.

Ribbentrop, bitterly attacked Anglo-American "grat and chicanery."

"Japan," he said, "had shown remarkable performance toward Anglo-American threats out of our desire for peace, but Britain and America mistook Japan's perseverance for weakness."

Note: Last year Hitler promised the Germans total victory in 1941.

Boasts of victories

Fantastic claims of Jap successes were being made today by the Axis. One report from Berlin said that General MacArthur, the U.S. commander in the Philippines, had been almost surrounded at Manila.

From Honolulu it was reported that the Jap fleet had secured complete air and naval control over four oceans.

He declared that nine British destroyers had been sunk at Hong Kong and four heavily damaged. In the air, he said, the British and American planes had been shot down—33 of them in the Philippines—by the loss by the Japanese Navy of 32 planes.

From Honolulu it was reported that Rear-Admiral Chester V. Nimitz has arrived to take command of the U.S. Pacific Fleet.—B.U.P. and Reuter.

Failed to welcome Quisling: Arrested

Stockholm, Saturday.

Numerous arrests have been made among leading citizens of Norway since the German forces entered the country. The arrests are reported to be for their failure to obey an order to attend a war council the quiescent administrator during his recent visit to the town.

"HE WAS RIGHT"

Dear Sir—Some time ago I had been ill for a long while, and on recovering I asked my medical practitioner what was a good thing to take as a real pick-me-up and tonic. "Get some Yeast-Vite tablets," he told me. "They will certainly do you good." They definitely are good, and they certainly are not a quick remedy, he told me. He was right. I commenced to take them, and they acted as a fine tonic. Yours faithfully (Sgd.) F. D. Young. Yeast-Vite tablets, 100 tablets, 100 tablets, 100 tablets, etc. etc. etc. 1d., 1d., 3d and 5d. each.

Singapore More Confident

NEW TROOPS STEM JAPS

SOMEWHAT BELATEDLY SINGAPORE IS GETTING DOWN TO A TOTAL WAR BASIS AND WITH SIGNS OF NEW DRIVING FORCE AND HUSTLE. CONFIDENCE IS RETURNING EVERYWHERE.

Although news from the front in Malaya is scanty, there is still an impression that the British forces are winning a more easily defended line near Singapore.

Both sides have been strongly reinforced by troops, and the tired Imperial forces who had been fighting since the invasion began, have been relieved.

The Japanese thrust is being slowed down, and they are reported to be suffering suicidal losses in a vain attempt to keep smartly on the move.

ENEMY CLAIMS DENIED

According to the Japanese Daily Asahi, the British have not yet reached a line south of what is called as British defence line named after Air Chief Marshal Sir.

Forty tanks and 60 guns were found in the "Popham Line," the survey asserted.

Japanese HQ also claimed that enemy shipping concentrations off Sarawak have been bombed by Dutch planes. Several direct hits were made on the largest ship says an official Dutch communiqué and a column of flame several hundred yards long.

An enemy lighter was also sunk.—B.U.P. and Reuter.

TOJO CLAIMS VICTORIA POINT

Saigon Radio last night quoted the Japanese Premier, General Tojo, as saying that the Japanese had captured a large number of prisoners in Burma.—B.U.P.

SAIGON RADIO

SAIGON RADIO

SAIGON RADIO

SAIGON RADIO

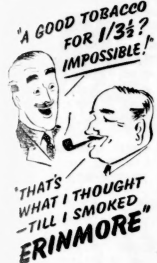

SAIGON RADIO

SAIGON RADIO

SAIGON RADIO

SAIGON RADIO

SAIGON RADIO

A GOOD TOBACCO FOR 1/3? IMPOSSIBLE!

ERINMORE

IRON-ON HELPS MAKE RED BLOOD

The Kind That Puts Strength and Courage Into Your Veins

With the people you meet on the street; in the home where you have plenty of iron in your blood—strong, healthy, vigorous life with ample reserves of courage you can do anything. Without iron, the blood has no power to change food into living tissue. Therefore, nothing you eat is of any use to you. You don't get the strength you need from it.

But you must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated—organic iron—IRON-ON—otherwise it may harm you. Iron-ON does not irritate the stomach. Iron-ON is the only iron that makes your blood black, not red. Iron-ON is the only iron that gives you the strength you need for Iron-ON Super-Tonic Tablets. They cost only 1/5 & 3/5 a package. They contain only two iron pills in many cases. See for yourself.—ADVT.

I keep fit

—and so can you!

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Prices in Great Britain (Including Postage Free) 1/4 & 3/5 per box. Also obtainable in Pennyworth.

CONFIDENCE & STRENGTH

HOPEFULLY and with good cause for hope, we look forward into the future. What has been done gives us encouragement to tackle what remains to do, and by being strong and confident ourselves we give others confidence and strength. It is when we get tired and cold that cheerfulness is most likely to be clouded over by depression. That is the time when Bovril is so stimulating and encouraging. That is the time to remember—that HOT BOVRIL CHEERS!

RESERVE BRITISH COAST

FROM Land's End to Dover, from Dover to the Orkneys, in fiercest storm or biggest blitz, Britain's lifeboatmen keep constant watch and ward. To these men, the war at sea has multiplied by a thousandfold the risks of their already dangerous calling. Yet, through their courage and devotion, the crew of many a minesweeper, trawler, merchantman or plane has been saved to fight again. And here, in the first article of this new series, begins the saga of the nation's most modest heroes.

LIFEBOAT HEROES BRAVE THE SEA

BLITZ

SINCE the outbreak of war men of the British Lifeboat Service have braved a life every four hours—and the many thousands of British soldiers saved by the resource and courage of the lifeboatmen during the evacuation of Dunkirk.

Such men deserve the highest praise—but prefer to keep in the background. Howard Knight, D.S.M., coxswain of the famous Ramsgate lifeboat, is one of these men. For forty-three years he has faced the dangers of the Goodwin Sands in his mission of mercy. Now, by day and night, he dares the German U-boat menace, the mine-infested Channel, and the murderous attacks of the Luftwaffe.

But nothing can keep him from his duty. He has saved many a life. He has been awarded the D.S.M. for his courage and determination. He has been awarded the D.S.M. for his courage and determination.

Snares of the Goodwins

The Goodwin Sands, as much as mines and bombs, are the cause of the Ramsgate lifeboat being so often in action. Howard Knight, because of his great knowledge of the deadly quicksands, has been instrumental in the saving of dozens of ships and their crews.

Last winter, during a terrific snowstorm, the phone bell rang in Knight's comfortable sitting-room. "Hello!" the coxswain leapt, but didn't hold the receiver for long. Ramsgate is back in the hook, he turned to his wife and said, "I have to hurry off."

Mrs. Knight, as usual, slipped on the thick coat, hurried into the snow, and knocked up the rest of the crew, while Howard made off to the lifeboat, within a few moments of their arrival at the beach, the men, packed in thick sweaters, were in their boat.

The drifting snow lay heavily on their jackets, making the life-savers look like snow-men as they went about their duties. Young Atwood, the engineer, however, soon had the engines purring like a cat, and the coxswain, turning his craft "Northwards," headed out of the harbour towards the Channel.

As they fought their way through the waves so did the fury of the storm increase. The Channel sea was a maelstrom all around, and the men could hardly see their ship-mates.

Lifeboat Filled With Water

For some time the lifeboat cruised around. As well as danger from the sands, the sea was sure, had loosed mines from moorings, and out there in the Channel scores of U-boats were floating in the shipping lanes when the

Perhaps some were close to the Prudential as she cruised around, waiting for the opportunity to go in and help the Norwegian.

Howard Knight, D.S.M., coxswain of the famous Ramsgate lifeboat, is one of these men. For forty-three years he has faced the dangers of the Goodwin Sands in his mission of mercy. Now, by day and night, he dares the German U-boat menace, the mine-infested Channel, and the murderous attacks of the Luftwaffe.

But nothing can keep him from his duty. He has saved many a life. He has been awarded the D.S.M. for his courage and determination. He has been awarded the D.S.M. for his courage and determination.

Snares of the Goodwins

The Goodwin Sands, as much as mines and bombs, are the cause of the Ramsgate lifeboat being so often in action. Howard Knight, because of his great knowledge of the deadly quicksands, has been instrumental in the saving of dozens of ships and their crews.

Last winter, during a terrific snowstorm, the phone bell rang in Knight's comfortable sitting-room. "Hello!" the coxswain leapt, but didn't hold the receiver for long. Ramsgate is back in the hook, he turned to his wife and said, "I have to hurry off."

Mrs. Knight, as usual, slipped on the thick coat, hurried into the snow, and knocked up the rest of the crew, while Howard made off to the lifeboat, within a few moments of their arrival at the beach, the men, packed in thick sweaters, were in their boat.

The drifting snow lay heavily on their jackets, making the life-savers look like snow-men as they went about their duties. Young Atwood, the engineer, however, soon had the engines purring like a cat, and the coxswain, turning his craft "Northwards," headed out of the harbour towards the Channel.

As they fought their way through the waves so did the fury of the storm increase. The Channel sea was a maelstrom all around, and the men could hardly see their ship-mates.

Lifeboat Filled With Water

For some time the lifeboat cruised around. As well as danger from the sands, the sea was sure, had loosed mines from moorings, and out there in the Channel scores of U-boats were floating in the shipping lanes when the

Perhaps some were close to the Prudential as she cruised around, waiting for the opportunity to go in and help the Norwegian.

Howard Knight, D.S.M., coxswain of the famous Ramsgate lifeboat, is one of these men. For forty-three years he has faced the Charles Knight, brother of Howard, who waited nearly fifty years for a lifeboat, and eight lifeboats men bring in survivors of a wreck.

however, when the call to action came again. The Blake lightship crew had been taken aboard another ship and were anxious to be brought ashore.

Thus Charlie and the crew were called upon to go out and bring them to safety. In the cold light of dawn they spotted a big steamer ahead. She signalled that the Blake's crew were aboard, and Charlie Knight, though his command alongside, and the lightship were taken into the lifeboat.

At the same time the lads from Margate had been called upon to help another ship that was in difficulties. They reached Ramsgate more or less at the same time.

Even then Charlie Knight's debut as a coxswain was not finished. A message came through from Trinity House ordering those men to go to the rescue of a ship that had been ascertained that she was not too badly damaged.

So back to the Goodwin Sands for the third time went the gallant crew of the Ramsgate lifeboat. Charlie still at the helm.

For more than twenty hours they were in almost continual service, and Charlie Knight, who had again the lifeboat, did a great job of work in the absence of his famous brother.

THE lifeboatmen of Ramsgate have also played a big part in saving life at sea, despite the bomber menace, as well as the Mar- itime. The latter crew's coxswain, Edward Parker, like Howard Knight, received the D.S.M. for his exploits at sea.

One of his strangest rescues was the result of a story few people would believe.

The air-raid siren had just gone and German bombers in an endless procession were passing overhead. Now and again there came a wish as one of the "eggs" left the bomb-rack, and the lifeboat, with its anti-aircraft barrage, was ordered to be stationed on Margate jetty, aware that he could hear a voice calling for help out of the darkness.

With bombs falling on all sides and shrapnel from the attack guns patterning around them like rain, the Margate lifeboat put its nose into the blackness, hunting for someone they had not heard of.

Through the darkness of the night the crew thought he heard a sound. Carefully Parker brought his craft alongside, and the lifeboat, with its anti-aircraft barrage, was ordered to be stationed on Margate jetty, aware that he could hear a voice calling for help out of the darkness.

With bombs falling on all sides and shrapnel from the attack guns patterning around them like rain, the Margate lifeboat put its nose into the blackness, hunting for someone they had not heard of.

Through the darkness of the night the crew thought he heard a sound. Carefully Parker brought his craft alongside, and the lifeboat, with its anti-aircraft barrage, was ordered to be stationed on Margate jetty, aware that he could hear a voice calling for help out of the darkness.

With bombs falling on all sides and shrapnel from the attack guns patterning around them like rain, the Margate lifeboat put its nose into the blackness, hunting for someone they had not heard of.

Through the darkness of the night the crew thought he heard a sound. Carefully Parker brought his craft alongside, and the lifeboat, with its anti-aircraft barrage, was ordered to be stationed on Margate jetty, aware that he could hear a voice calling for help out of the darkness.

given run and every attention, and by the time the shore was reached he was feeling much better.

Now, if that officer hadn't fancied he'd heard a cry for help in the darkness, and if Coxswain Parker and his men hadn't braved the blitz, one young man who has played a big part in the Battle of Britain might never have had a second chance to show his skill against the Hun.

Meantime, just off Beachy Head, the London steamer Barnhill was mauling her way through the choppy sea, having completed a successful crossing of the Atlantic.

On her bridge stood Captain O'Neill, one of the toughest of merchant navy skippers, a man who served with distinction in the Spanish Civil War, and who was engaged in his third struggle.

O'Neill felt satisfied. Soon he would be ashore again—and his thoughts were interrupted by the glare of a plane.

Glancing upwards, he was just in time to see a Nazi bomber swooping down at him, throttle full open, and diving to drop a bomb on his beloved ship.

Quickly the skipper gave the order to abandon ship. He acted just in time, for bombs whistled down and fell a few yards to port, sending waves cascading on to the merchantman's decks.

He claimed O'Neill—and had only just finished speaking when the bomber, diving low, scored a direct hit on the bridge.

A sheet of flame, and with an explosion which strained every nerve in the sturdy ship, the bridge was thrown high into the air. Nothing, so those members of the crew who were themselves overboard thought, could have lived through such an explosion.

Suddenly the ship caught fire. Soon she was a blazing incandescent, and overhead the Nazi gloated over his handiwork.

Meanwhile the Eastbourne lifeboat, ignoring the menace of German bombs, put to sea, determined to save the crew of the burning hulk the men perched through the flames and thick smoke that enveloped her, but the crew there was no sign.

They were being dragged away by a tug, but the lifeboatmen were not aware of this at the time.

"Better stand by—just in case," the skipper of the lifeboat, minutes, the Eastbourne lifeboat, keeping a good look-out for the return of the Nazi bomber, cruised around.

"Better stand by—just in case," the skipper of the lifeboat, minutes, the Eastbourne lifeboat, keeping a good look-out for the return of the Nazi bomber, cruised around.

"Better stand by—just in case," the skipper of the lifeboat, minutes, the Eastbourne lifeboat, keeping a good look-out for the return of the Nazi bomber, cruised around.

"Better stand by—just in case," the skipper of the lifeboat, minutes, the Eastbourne lifeboat, keeping a good look-out for the return of the Nazi bomber, cruised around.

The Butcher says . . .

"That's right, Mrs. Smith. We're getting a seventh of our meat now in corned beef—two pence in the 1/2 as you might say. Lord Woolton's watching his stocks—he likes to be sure he's got a bit in hand. I don't mind telling you I was rather afraid the whole ration would be cut down. It's lucky for everyone there is this corned beef to help out with. Cold or hot, you can dish it up in a dozen different ways—and very tasty, too. No, Mrs. Smith, I don't want any points coupons, it's all part of the meat ration."

And here are some new recipes:

HARICOT BEEF: Soak 1 lb. small haricot beans for 24 hours, then cook for 4 hrs. Slice 1 lb. corned beef and shred one small cabbage. Put the beans, meat, cabbage and a chopped leek, if possible, in layers in a fire-proof dish, with a few peppercorns and a little salt sprinkled between.

CORNBED BEEF WITH CABBAGE: Wash and slice a leek and fry lightly in a little cooking fat in a stout saucepan. Add 1 lb. corned beef cut into small pieces.

Food Facts

NUMBER 76

THE MINISTRY OF FOOD, LONDON, W.1

For Blood, Veins, Arteries and Heart

Elasto

Take It—and Stop Limping!

No ailment resulting from poor or sluggish circulation of the blood can resist the curative action of Elasto. Varicose veins are restored to a normal state, the heart's arteries are cleared up, the arteries are restored to a normal state, the heart's arteries are cleared up, the arteries are restored to a normal state, the heart's arteries are cleared up.

1942

'RESOLUTION WINS' ARRIVE

LESS SPENDING MORE SAVING

Give them a good start in life

Open a Savings Bank Account and deposit all you can in the

POST OFFICE and TRUSTEE SAVINGS BANKS

World copyright, 1942, by the Author, Advertiser Agency, Ltd., London. All reproduction in part or whole is prohibited.

LAZY BACKACHE KIDNEYS CAUSE Urinary Troubles

NEVER trifle with kidney ailments. Relieve backache, rheumatic pains, aching muscles and dizzy attacks, disturbed nights and dizzy attacks after they can become more serious.

The cause in each case is a poisoned condition due to the failure of the kidneys to start taking Down brand Backache Kidney Pills. This special kidney remedy cleans kidneys, strengthens and stimulates the kidneys and the blood, purifies and restores case and comfort are regained. You can rely upon a medicine that has been used and publicly recommended by 50,000 grateful men and women.

Ask for DOANS, 1/5, 3, 5, 8, 10

Neuritis

Remove the cause of the pain—constipation—with the blessed soothing warmth of Thermogene Medicated Wadding. Recommended by doctors for neuritis and rheumatism. Wear it unobtrusively day and night while you carry on.

TO REMOVE PAIN

USE THERMOGENE MEDICATED WADDING

Still obtainable at ORIGINAL THERMOGENE Chemists Ltd. The Family Store 2/6

Boy, Oh Boy!

When Home on My Last Leave Heard Nothing But 'Yeast-Vite, Yeast-Vite, Yeast-Vite'

— R. W. Station

Dear Sirs:—Boy, oh boy, am I a new man, thanks to Yeast-Vite!

When home on my last leave my wife heard nothing but 'Yeast-Vite, Yeast-Vite, Yeast-Vite'!

But believe me I hope I'll never be without a bottle of Yeast-Vite again. I started taking Yeast-Vite tablets and thanks to them I feel five years younger now than I did before I tried to try them.

You are at liberty to use this letter.

(Sgd.) R. W.

"I FIND THEM INVARIABLE"

Announcement

Nov. 20th, 1941

Dear Sirs:—Permit me to say a word or two in appreciation of your wonderful tablets.

I suffer occasionally from nerve dyspepsia and when I feel this coming on, a bottle of Yeast-Vite tablets soon puts me right again. I find them invaluable as a general all-round tonic.

(Sgd.) J. J.

"I FIND THEM INVARIABLE"

Announcement

Nov. 20th, 1941

Dear Sirs:—Permit me to say a word or two in appreciation of your wonderful tablets.

I suffer occasionally from nerve dyspepsia and when I feel this coming on, a bottle of Yeast-Vite tablets soon puts me right again. I find them invaluable as a general all-round tonic.

(Sgd.) J. J.

"I FIND THEM INVARIABLE"

Announcement

Nov. 20th, 1941

Dear Sirs:—Permit me to say a word or two in appreciation of your wonderful tablets.

I suffer occasionally from nerve dyspepsia and when I feel this coming on, a bottle of Yeast-Vite tablets soon puts me right again. I find them invaluable as a general all-round tonic.

(Sgd.) J. J.

"I FIND THEM INVARIABLE"

Announcement

Nov. 20th, 1941

Dear Sirs:—Permit me to say a word or two in appreciation of your wonderful tablets.

I suffer occasionally from nerve dyspepsia and when I feel this coming on, a bottle of Yeast-Vite tablets soon puts me right again. I find them invaluable as a general all-round tonic.

(Sgd.) J. J.

"I FIND THEM INVARIABLE"

Announcement

Nov. 20th, 1941

Dear Sirs:—Permit me to say a word or two in appreciation of your wonderful tablets.

I suffer occasionally from nerve dyspepsia and when I feel this coming on, a bottle of Yeast-Vite tablets soon puts me right again. I find them invaluable as a general all-round tonic.

(Sgd.) J. J.

"I FIND THEM INVARIABLE"

Announcement

Nov. 20th, 1941

Dear Sirs:—Permit me to say a word or two in appreciation of your wonderful tablets.

I suffer occasionally from nerve dyspepsia and when I feel this coming on, a bottle of Yeast-Vite tablets soon puts me right again. I find them invaluable as a general all-round tonic.

(Sgd.) J. J.

"I FIND THEM INVARIABLE"

Announcement

Nov. 20th, 1941

Dear Sirs:—Permit me to say a word or two in appreciation of your wonderful tablets.

I suffer occasionally from nerve dyspepsia and when I feel this coming on, a bottle of Yeast-Vite tablets soon puts me right again. I find them invaluable as a general all-round tonic.

(Sgd.) J. J.

"I FIND THEM INVARIABLE"

Announcement

Nov. 20th, 1941

Dear Sirs:—Permit me to say a word or two in appreciation of your wonderful tablets.

I suffer occasionally from nerve dyspepsia and when I feel this coming on, a bottle of Yeast-Vite tablets soon puts me right again. I find them invaluable as a general all-round tonic.

(Sgd.) J. J.

"I FIND THEM INVARIABLE"

Announcement

Nov. 20th, 1941

Dear Sirs:—Permit me to say a word or two in appreciation of your wonderful tablets.

I suffer occasionally from nerve dyspepsia and when I feel this coming on, a bottle of Yeast-Vite tablets soon puts me right again. I find them invaluable as a general all-round tonic.

(Sgd.) J. J.

By GINA DAVE

ERLY went on with her lunch while she waited for the doctor's remedy for the Lomax troubles until she could have screamed with irritation. The doctor, who she knew of her voice as she answered:

"We can't interfere, not so soon now difficult it is. We're not sure what it is, but we have brought it home to an end. It might put our feet into it, however we are."

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

By GINA DAVE

ERLY went on with her lunch while she waited for the doctor's remedy for the Lomax troubles until she could have screamed with irritation. The doctor, who she knew of her voice as she answered:

"We can't interfere, not so soon now difficult it is. We're not sure what it is, but we have brought it home to an end. It might put our feet into it, however we are."

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

By GINA DAVE

ERLY went on with her lunch while she waited for the doctor's remedy for the Lomax troubles until she could have screamed with irritation. The doctor, who she knew of her voice as she answered:

"We can't interfere, not so soon now difficult it is. We're not sure what it is, but we have brought it home to an end. It might put our feet into it, however we are."

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

He's said.

